

Protection from Fraud

Most people believe that assets such as their house or car provides adequate protection from fraud, however, as Certified Management Accountants, we know that protection of a person's identify is just as valuable. Keeping assets safe from thieves requires careful planning and vigilant effort to ensure protection measures are adequately in place.

This session welcomes Sgt. Bill Quarrell from the Thunder Bay Police, Fraud Unit. Sgt. Quarrell will share the latest types of frauds, red flags to observe that may indicate fraud activity, tools and techniques to prevent financial business fraud and personal identity fraud and tips for employers or managers who may suspect fraudulent behavior in the workplace.

Please join your fellow CMA members for an engaging session!
