

Working with Upper Management: Strategies You Should Know!

Your success in your career and your ambitions of impressing your higher ups will come down to making and keeping the best professional connection. That connection will be incumbent on your successful and accurate interpretation and understanding of the personal and professional expectations of upper management. This presentation provides strategies for ensuring a good working connection with those in authority by focusing on personality profiling, "mirroring" to connect, how to listen and how to be heard and anticipating their needs and expectations.

Come to BMO Field for a great night of networking and learning something that you can use in your every day work. Parking is available on the south side of the stadium, with the entrance at the west side (Gate 4). The soccer memorabilia-filled Rogers Room (on the second floor) will host you also to a buffet dinner that will include:

- Honey Dijon chicken
- Grilled maple-glazed salmon
- Roasted red-skinned potatoes
- Sautéed vegetables
- Basmati-saffron rice
- Tomato & Bocconcini salad (with Balsamic glaze, coarse salt, extra virgin olive oil)
- International & domestic cheese boards
- An assortment of individual pastries including brownies, mini-biscotti, cheesecake pops and mini mousse cups and fresh fruit brochettes

Juice, pop and water will be provided; beer and wine will be available for purchase at the bar

About the Speaker
